

THE US-CHINA BUSINESS COUNCIL

美中贸易全国委员会

USCBC 2009 Meetings and Events

Mark Your Calendars

The US-China Business Council (USCBC) hosts a variety of meetings and special events that enable USCBC members to interact with leading US and PRC government officials and others involved in US-China commercial relations.

In addition to USCBC's annual Forecast conference, held in January, USCBC holds the following regularly scheduled programs. USCBC also expects to host several special events for China's leadership and will hold our Gala this year. Please check our Meetings & Events page online at www.uschina.org/info/programs.

If you don't receive our weekly Meetings and Events e-Update, please sign up for it at www.uschina.org/manage/login.php.

USCBC Chair and Chairman & CEO of Dow Chemical Co. Andrew Liveris, Ambassador to the United States Zhou Wenzhong, and USCBC President John Frisbie. Sardari.com

Special Conferences and Events

China Operations 2009

May, Beijing

October, Shanghai

This day-long, twice-yearly conference features business executives, government officials, economists, and other experts on China's changing operational and investment environment.

36th Annual Membership Meeting

June 2, Washington, DC

USCBC's Annual Membership Meeting is a day-long overview of business and economic trends in China, as well as a forum for the discussion of major US-China policy issues.

A panel of speakers from the 2008 US presidential campaigns speak at USCBC's 2008 Annual Membership Meeting. Sardari.com

USCBC Gala

Washington, DC

The USCBC Gala in Washington, DC, is an important fundraising effort that strengthens USCBC's ability to serve its member companies. Members of the business, government, diplomatic, and think-tank communities attend. USCBC honors senior US government officials and members of Congress or senior PRC government officials at the event.

Other Meetings

Issues Luncheons

Beijing, Shanghai, Washington, DC
Fee: $55 (Washington), RMB 300 (China)

USCBC invites members of the US and PRC governments and other China analysts to address specific concerns of members at small luncheons.

Roundtable Discussions and Benchmarking Sessions

Beijing, Shanghai, Washington, DC

USCBC frequently holds informal meetings on pressing issues in the changing business and policy environments. Past topics have included:

PRC Vice Premier Wang Qishan at a dinner co-hosted by USCBC. Sardari.com

- China's evolving energy policies
- PRC and US visas
- Financial sector reforms
- High- and new-technology enterprise certification
- Government affairs in China
- Human resources issues in China, including employee benefits best practices
- Labor Contract Law
- Supplier auditing best practices
- Trade remedy case preparation
- US-China commercial policy
- Antimonopoly Law
- Intellectual property rights enforcement