Zhang Xuan's "Lady Kuo-Kuo and her Sisters Setting Forth on an Outing" (Tang Dynasty, 8th century), reworked in 1989 by Sanna Shao(邵珊珊) in Hong Kong.

A Quest for a New World of Hospitality in China

In old China, travel was restricted to nobility and merchants; trips were long and arduous... and comfortable lodging was hard to find.

Today, there's a New World in Beijing, Guangzhou and Shanghai. All first class hotels where travelling business people enjoy the utmost in comfort, service and style. Convenient locations, well appointed rooms, a wide choice of business support services, recreational facilities and, without doubt, the best restaurants in town.

For fine accommodation and superb hospitality in China, look no further than New World.
